Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rumpler held their first reception yesterday afternoon and evening at their home on Bellefontaine street. The house was tastefully arranged with flowers. Mrs. Rumpler was assisted in the afternoon by her mother, Mrs. D. R. Lucas, Miss Rumpler of Cincinnati, Miss Etha Hall, Miss Sarah Foster and Miss Helen Greenleaf. In the dining room tea was served. The table was canopled with pink ribbons fastened at the chande-Her and reaching to the corners of the table. Scattered over the cloth were pink carnations and fern leaves. There were many callers. In the evening Mr. Rumpler, Dr. Lucas, Mr. Alex. Rumpler of Cincinnati, Mr. Charles Brown and Mr. Max Lucas assisted in entertaining the visitors.

The second and last of the formal recep-tions will take place Tuesday, the 20th. An elaborate party was given last evening at the Propylaeum by Mr. and Mrs. James F. Falley for their daughter, Miss Alice Failey. The guests were received in the assembly room by Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Failey, Miss Stucky of Cincinnati, and Miss Helen Smith, of Crawfordsville. Mrs. Falley wore a handsome gown of green silk, with white lace. Miss Failey wore a white brocaded silk trimmed with white lace. Miss Stucky's gown was of white silk and Miss Smith's was of tan moire with garniture of gold lace. The guests were mostly young people. The decoration of the hall was very effective. Garlands of green crossed and recrossed the upper part of the hall, and in the center swung a huge heart of green, with white ribbon fastened at either side. The orchestra was placed at one end of the platform. After a number of miscellaneous dances the company was invited to the east parlor, where refreshments were served. In the center of the room was an oblong table with silver candelabra and pink candles. The flowers on the table were Bermuda lilies and pink carnations. After the supper the guests returned to the hall. During their absence all arrangements had been made for several figures of the german. Mr. John A. Butler led the figure with Miss Stucky. The other leaders were Mr. W. F. C. Golt, Mr. N. Booth Tarkington and Mr. Samuel Morrison, a gentleman leading from each corner of the room. There were four figures danced at once and about fort; participated. At the conclusion of the four figures they resolved into one, and into this the floral heart entered. At a given signal the ribbons were drawn and the heart opened, and from it fluttered heartshaped valentines. These were the favors for the ladies and flowers were given the gentlemen. The heart was lined with carnations, and as it spread and was relieved of the valentines there was suspended a double heart of flowers. The effect was unique and charming. Among the guests from out of the city were Miss Delight Sweetser and Miss Lucy Humphreys, of Marion; Miss Stockton, of Evanston; Miss Farrington, of Terre Haute; Mr. Smart and Mr. Thompson, of Lafayette; Mr. Knapp, of Pittsburg, and Mr. Hutchins, of Chi-

New York Company Sends a Man to Compete for Street Work.

Says He Has Genuine Pitch Lake Asphalt-Board of Health's Letter About Night Soil.

Yesterday morning Hugo Reed, president of the Trinidad Asphalt Refining Company, of 50 Wall street, New York, called upon Mayor Denny at his office and introduced himself to the city's executive. He said he was here to ascertain to what extent the city contemplated laying asphalt streets this year, with a view to entering the lists in competition for the work. He claims that he will lay Trinidad pitch lake asphaltum at a much lower rate than the city has been getting. He said his company could get the pitch lake asphalt, and would lay it upon the streets if given a contract, and also said that his company did not belong to the asphalt ring, and purchased none of its material from the Barber company. He talked freely of the supply of asphaltum and the sources from which it was obtained.

About a year ago he made a trip to the island of Trinidad in the interests of his company and made a thorough investigation of the supply of the two kinds of asphaltum and the sources from which each is derived. He said the overflow asphaltum was that portion which had, as its name signifies, overflowed from the lake and become mixed with earth and gravel. In places he said it was found in veins, and several tons could be removed from a vein, the greater portion of which would be equal to the pitch lake in quality. The difficulty with the overflow product was that the supply was uncertain. Mr. Reed says that his company has laid pavements in Detroit, Mich., and Utica, N. Y., and it is desirous of doing work in this

REMOVING NIGHT SOIL.

d of Health Makes Recommend tions as to Its Disposal.

The subject of the disposal of the night soil, which was referred to the health board a few days ago by the Board of Public Works, has received the attention of the former board and its recommendations were embodied in a communication addressed to the Board of Works yesterday. The communication is as follows:

"Referring to the matter of the disposition of night soil the Board of Health, in pursuance of the instructions from your board, has investigated the subject and is of the opinion that the disposition of the night soil, as at present accomplished, is not satisfactory to this board. Much of the substance is not suitable for combustion by the crematory. It is not in accordance with good sanitary usage to have it buried at the Sellers farm as is being done. "This board recommends that some agreement be entered into between your board and the contractors who have this matter in charge whereby the night soil may be diluted, washed and rendered sufficiently fluid by the liberal mixture of water that it may be washed into some large sewer near the city limits and carried down with the general sewage. The refuse which re-ing of the Malott Children. At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday it was decided to make an investigation into the source of the poisoning of the three children of Macy Malott a few days ago from the drinking of milk. There was not sufficient quantity of the milk left to permit the making of an analysis and the city chemist, J. N. Hurty, and Sanitary Officer Duvall will go to Greenwood this morning and secure a quantity of milk from the dairy furnishing the milk to the Malott family. The milk will be analyzed with a view to tracing the origin of the poisoning if such is possible. If impurities are found the dairyman will be prosecuted under the newly found ordinance fixing a penalty for selling impure milk.

Troubled About Water Mains. The question of laying new water mains is now puzzling the members of the Board of Public Works. Under the contract with the water company it is required to lay a given number of feet of new water mains each year, and the question that is puzzling the works board at the present time is to determine where to order them laid. They consulted with the officials of the water company yesterday afternoon and in a tew days will order mains. Filed It with the Mayor. The annual report of the City Board of Health was filed with the Mayor yesterday afternoon. The only feature embodied in the report not heretofore made public was the report upon the garbage question, and the board's views on that were recently embodied in a communication addressed to the Board of Public Works.

The regular meeting of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday afternoon at the Propylaeum, and there was an attendance of fifty ladies, with a representation of about half that number of societies. A report of the meeting of general officers of the society held Jan. 9 was read. The general officers took action on the annual meeting of the council to be held April 3 and 4, with an afternoon and evening session the first day and an afternoon session the second day. In the evening there will be music by members of the Matinee Musicale, and six short addresses on topics of general interest by members of the council.

A report of the committee in regard to wine rooms was made, and it set forth the evils of these debasing places. Among other things in the report was this: "Disreputable women of the worst class frequent them; if there were no disreputable women there would be no wine rooms. Anything which tends to the demoralization of the women of a community is the worst evil that can threaten that community. These wine rooms are the outgrowth of the social evil rather than the saloon, and the ordinary sale and drinking of intoxicating liquors in an ordinary saloon is a respectable business carried on in a respectable way when contrasted with the wine rooms." The committee asked to be discharged, and the work which has been their special duty will be added to that of the committee of municipal affairs. Mrs J. H. Baldwin said she believed the

REVISING THE NATIONAL CODE.

Marion County Society Favors a Change in the Rules of Ethics.

The Marion County Medical Society met at the Criminal Court room last night to consider the revision of the code of ethics as proposed in a report submitted by the majority of a special committee to the American Medical Association. The association indirectly referred the question to medical societies over the country. By almost a two-thirds vote the Marion county society favored this report last night. There was much discussion among the sixty members present. Dr. W. N. Wishard presided.

The report recommends that all sections of the code that describe the obligations of the patient to the doctor and the public to the physician be omitted. The reason for this suggestion is that the code is not designed either for patients or the public, and so the sections are superfluous. The majority found no reason why the code should say anything about copyrighting medical publications or the patenting of mechanical appliances used in medicine or surgery. It was recommended that a more accurate definition of "consultation" be made, as good reasons were found to believe that serious estrangement has arisen between physicians because of the different ideas they attach to this term. It was further suggested that the provision of the code referring to a consultation be changed so as to read as follows: "A thorough medical education furnishes the only presumptive evidence of professional abilities and requirements, and ought to be the only acknowledged right of an individual to the exercise and honors of his profession. Nevertheless as the good of the patient is the sole object in view and this is often dependent upon personal confidence, no intelligent practitioner who has a license to practice from a medical board of known and acknowledged legal authority to issue such license, and who is in good moral and professional standing in the place in which he resides should be refused consultation when it is requested by the patient." A number of interesting cases were re-

Says He Is Innocent - Indignation in Boone County.

Frank Hall, the negro sentenced to twenty-one years in the penitentiary for criminally assaulting Mrs. Akers, of Lebanon, is quietly resting at the fail awaiting his removal to the penitentiary, which will occur in a few days. It is not known at exactly what date he will be removed. He spends his time in smoking cigarettes and in sleeping, and shows no apparent concern in his fate. During his keeping he has told several stories in regard to the trouble. In one he states that Mrs. Akers was not a victim. This statement has been contradicted in the strongest terms by the citizens of Lebanon, and the feeling is very birter over the fact that the prisoner should make this very contemptible statement after he was beyond the vengeance of the He was seen yesterday afternoon in his cell at the county jail, and between puffs

Ten of the Italians who for many months have been peddling bananas on the streets of Indianapolis yesterday purchased tickets over the C., H. & D. road for Toronto. The Italians claim that the city ordinance forbidding them from selling by station on Washington and other streets has made their business unprofitable.

THE OLD JAIL SOLD.

A Stone Contractor Pays $380 for the Ancient Landmark.

The County Commissioners yesterday afternoon sold the old jail to Philander Phillips. The building was sold at auction at 2 o'clock, from the steps at the east entrance of the courthouse. Deputy Auditor Johnson officiated as auctioneer with becoming dignity, and after a half hour's work succeeded in working off the old land mark for the sum of $380. The purchaser of the jail is a stone contractor, and will begin at once to remove the material to his yard.

A Bulldog Runs Amuck. A large bulldog created much excitement on Kentucky avenue about noon yesterday by its frantic efforts to fasten its teeth in somebody's flesh. He was first noticed near Tennessee street, where he bit a horse on the leg, and then started towards Washington street, snapping at every person he passed. He ran into Catterson's real estate office and snapped at R. F. Catterson, but a heavy boot saved Mr. Catterson. There was a stampede among the occupants of the office for a place of safety, and in the scramble a visitor in the office fell over the railing. At about this time Harve Case appeared upon the scene. The dog started toward him, and Case shot him in the neck. It took three more shots to kill the dog. He was frothing at the mouth and was supposed to be mad.

The Unemployed's Plan.

In accordance with the resolutions adopted by the unemployed at their meeting last Saturday night, a committee has been appointed to secure assignments from citizens of their pro rata share in the surplus of the encampment fund, which has been the cause of so much contention recently. The committee which has been appointed consists of Albert Krull, G Schnull, C. E. Kershner, Herman Ackelow, Christian A. Schrader, C. A. Johnson and E. B. Cummings. It is thought that to properly accomplish the purpose it will be necessary to appoint an auxiliary committee of about 250 persons.

A Lecture on the Heart.

"The Heart" was the subject of a lecture at St. George's Church last night by Dr. W. B. Fletcher. He gave a thorough description of this very important organ, showing its mechanism and wonderful power in forcing the blood to the remotest parts of the body. He said that with each pulsation the heart forced through the veins and arteries about eighteen pounds of blood. He described its formation, and spoke of the excesses and abuses which often cause disease to it.

SUE ON NOTES WILL

Third National, of New York, Wants to Recover $5,700.

More Litigation Resulting from the Indianapolis National Bank Wreck-Glue Works Sold for $12,000.

Some more peculiar litigation is about to result from the Indianapolis National Bank failure. One of the latter's New York correspondents was the First National Bank, of that city, which, in the course of numerous transactions between them, discounted fifty-seven hundred dollars' worth of the Indianapolis bank's paper, taking as collateral security therefor the notes for that amount of three substantial Indianapolis companies, namely, Bradley, Holton & Co., Clark, Helm & Co. and the Indianapolis Excelsior Manufacturing Company. The New York bank has been recently trying to force a settlement, having placed these notes in the hands of its present correspondent here, the Merchants' National, for collection. All three companies had deposits in the Indianapolis National, and they want these deposits to offset as far as they will these notes, being willing to pay the difference. Bradley, Holton & Co.'s note is for $1,000 and their balance in the wrecked bank was $988. Clark, Helm & Co.'s note is for $3,000, and they had a balance of nearly $2,000 in the bank, while the Indianapoils Excelsior Company had $700 to offset their note of $1,700. They are all three ready to pay the differences between their notes and the amounts of their lost deposits, and the first two mentioned companies yesterday tendered the cash to the Merchants' National for settlement. The New York bank appears to have been dilatory about this settlement or the collection of these notes for they have not acted until now, although the makers of the notes have been anxious to get the matter settled for some months. The fact that the notes are in the Third National's possession, not as a purchaser, but merely as collateral security for discounting notes of the insolvent Indianapolis bank, renders the situation a peculiar one, and appears to put the New York bank on much the same footing as other unfortunate is some idea prevalent that suit will not be brought, but that the settlement proposed by the three companies will be accepted. The latter, however, anticipate, and apparently invite, the litigation, for they want to get the matter closed up, and regard that as the next best means to the settlement proposed by them. Receiver Hawkins will, of course, be made a party to the suits, which will probably be entered to-day or to-morrow in the federal court here. The interested parties are looking for them to be filed any hour, and were somewhat sur-prised that they were not brought yester-

THE GLUE WORKS SALE.

Indianapolis Parties Buy the Plant-Sale of Product. The Indianapolis glue works have been sold for $12,000 to satisfy a $27,000 mortgage on the plant held by Receiver Hawkins, of the Indianapolis National Bank, and which was given to secure notes for that amount made in favor of the wrecked bank. The buildings, machinery, ground and raw material were bought by Charles Cunning, of Kingan & Co., for $6,500. The ground was until recently owned by Theodore P. Haughey, who has deeded it to the receiver, and the latter was therefore enabled to give a clear title to the property. The buildings are in pretty bad shape and the factory looks more like a rookery than anything else. The machinery, which originally cost from $25,000 to $30,000, is scarcely in fair condition with the exception of the boilers, which are almost new. The makers of the latter claim to have a lien on them, but it is not likely to stand the test of a lawsuit, so those familiar with the matter say It is understood that Kingan & Co. propose to start the factory very soon and run it right along, using the vast amount of the raw material from their packing establishment for the manufacture of glue. They would hardly purchase it for any other than that purpose.

A Mr. Greenbaum, of Chicago, bought the entire stock of manufactured glue on hand, paying $5,500 therefor. It consisted of a large lot of all grades and qualities of the product, and he probably intends jobbing it from here, as his firm in Chicago deals extensively in glue. Considering the condition of the glue market just at present and the general depression all around, the sale appears to be a pretty good one. The shutting down of so many cabinet and furniture works has of course had the effect of making the demand for glue very light. The raw material is constantly accumulating and the health authorities of the various points will not permit it to stand very long. It must be worked up, and this fact compels the glue vorks to continue in operation, hence the glutted condition of the market. Being so well situated to turn what might be waste material into glue Kingan & Co. are thought by many to have secured something of a bargain. While there were a good many inquiries the bids which were accepted were practically the only substantial ones, notwithstanding the fact that the sale was widely advertised by personal letters to all the glue manufacturers in the country and notices in the papers. The Indianapolis curled hair works are next on the list, but receiver Hawkins does not want to force them on to a depressed market. He would rather wait until there seems to be a chance for a fair sale. Yesterday's transaction was a cash one and the receiver has the $12,000. The Indianapolis glue works are on the anal in the vicinity of Brighton Beach. Schuyler C. Haughey was president of the concern, and it was he who borrowed the $27,000 on the notes above referred to.

FORTY DAYS OF LENT.

Special Services to Inaugurate the Season at Liturgical Churches.

To-day is Ash Wednesday and the beginning of Lent, which will last for forty days. The fasting done in Lent will consist of eating but one meal a day, and this about noon. In the morning and evening light lunches may be partaken of, but no meal eaten by those who religiously observe the season. This does not bind persons doing manual labor or those in ill health-in fact, any person to whom fasting would be injurious is not bound to keep the fast. During the Lenten period Roman Catholics also give up pleasures of all kinds. The last day of Lent comes on Easter Sunday. In the Catholic churches services will be held this morning at 8 o'clock and at 7:30 o'clock every Wednesday morning during Lent. On Friday evenings, at 7:30 o'clock, the devotion called the "Way of the Cross" will be had. At St. Paul's Episcopal Church there will be prayer, Litany and a sermon at 10 o'clock this morning. On each Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday there will be services at 4:30 p. m., and on Tuesdays and Fridays at 7:30 p. m. During holy week there will be daily morning prayer at 10 o'clock and a sermon at 7:30 p. m. Bishop Knickerbacker will confirm on Palm Sunday. At Christ Episcopal Church there will be services this morning, and at the evening services the Bishop will preach. There will be services each week day at 4:30 o'clock during Lent.

Stoope Wanted Her to Move. Patrolman Kimple arrested John Stoope yesterday on a warrant sworn out by his wife for alleged desertion. ONLY A JEW.

Rabbi Krauskopf, of Philadelphia, Delivers an Able Lecture.

The Montflore Society, composed of Jewish young men, have arranged for a course of lectures, and the initial one was given before a large audience at Plymouth Church last evening. The speaker was Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, of Philadelphia, and his subject was, "Only a Jew." He began by telling a story of Christmas two years ago when, passing along a street, he saw a crowd gathered and some one coming away from the crowd. He asked a man what was causing the trouble, and the reply was "Only a Jew." The Rabbi saw an old man who had slipped and fallen. His clothes were covered with mud and blood was flowing from a wound in his face. He questioned the Jew, and found that all he had in the world was the pack on his back, that from the small profits he supported his own family and his daughter, whose husband had perished on the steppes of Russia, where he had been driven for being a Jew. Rothschild, who contiols the destinies of empires, the fates of nations and the happiness of thousands of human beings, is what? Only a Jew. What mean the crowded stores at Christmas time? The Christians' annual celebration of the birth of Jesus, worshiped by onehalf of the civilized people of earth, the Prince of Peace, who came to plant peace and eternal good will. Who is Jesus, who commands veneration, whose name casts a spell of holiness over human hearts?
"Only a Jew." The speaker dwell at length of the raising of Moses to save his own people, and painted in rich colors the picture of Pontius Pilate with one hand nailing to the cross the gentle Rabbi of Among the speaker's statements was that by a strange coincidence the same day that Ferdinand and Isabella signed the edict excluding Jews from Spain they signed with the same pen the paper for Christopher Columbus, who was destined to open a new world of broader humanity, where wandering and persecuted Jews might find a home, where the Jew is destined to play his greatest part in the tragedy of life. He told of Russian and Turkey turning one hand against the Jew and offering the other to Montefiore, one of the greatest of the race. He told of the face of the Jew how it is ever marked with the traits of the despised and courted Jew. In a famous galery the speaker had seen two pictures, one of Fagan and one of Christ; for each the artists had used a Jew for a model, Rabbi Krauskopf did not spare the expressions which had been used to wrongly typify the race. The speaker cited the cases of the great statesman Beaconsfield the musicians, Moscheles, Mendelssohn, the scholars in the professions, and in all departments where the Jews had become the greatest of their class. He spoke of the sufferings and the persecutions they had been subjected to for centuries. The Jews, he said, gave a God to civilize the world a God worshiped by millions of Christians and millions of Mohammedans, and of having furnished the first disciples, apostles, prophets that gave the gospel to writing and traveled over land and water to spread it, the Bible, the decalogue and the Psalms. The Jew is unknown in the Police Court, on the scaffold, in the divorce court, in the poor house or in the almshouse. Mr. Krauskopf paid a tribute to Gen. ing in the crucifixion was shown to be entirely the work of the Romans, who at that time were in possession of Judea. He said that the Romans persecuted the Jews, who had no part in the crucifixion, as that form of death had never been theirs; that the crime for which the Savior was put to death was not punishable by death; that in truth Jesus was put to death by the Romans because they feared that he would usurp authority in physical matters. The Jews had begun to wander even before Ch ist was born. They were looking not for a Messiah, but for a Savior who would delver them from their bondage to the Romans. The lecture was listened to with the greatest attention. After the lecture Rabbi Krauskopf was entertained at the Clara Bodey, aged seventeen years, who resides in Galien, O., disappeared from that city on Monday night, Jan. 29, and has not been heard of since. She is a pretty brunette, and is of rather compact build. The alleged reason for leaving Galion is that she could get no work. When last seen she had donned men's clothes. Her motive was, as she said, that as she was rather strong for one of her sex, she thought that by appearing as a man she would be able to get work more readily. Maennerchor's Annual Masquerade. The annual masquerade of the Maennerchor Society last night was a surprise to the members of that popular organization, who had not anticipated so large an attendance. They have all along been thinking that this season being an off one in most every line their annual merry making occasion would suffer with everything Consequently, they made up their minds to a small affair, but were delighted to see their spacious hall filled with nearly five hundred members and friends and the floor crowded during the entire evening with dancers. The maskers were out in force, and many of the costumes were more than ordinarily attractive. The ball con-tinued until a late hour. It was along about the thirty-ninth annual occasion of the sort, as the Maennerchor will celebrate its for-tieth birthday next June in an elaborate manner.

Festival Chorus Organization. The May Festival chorus has elected a committee on membership and attendance. Mrs. Henrietta Barmeier, soprano; Miss Essie Messing, alto; Mr. Andrew Smith, tenor, and Mr. W. C. Smock, bass, constitute the committee. It is the desire of the directors to have the chorus a permanent institution, so that when the annual festival is due, all that will be necessary will be to notify the members of the chorus. The choruses have always been creditable, but the finish which they showed last year has never been surpassed Mr. Arens, the chorus director, is much pleased that such an advance has been made with the chorus.

SAVE DOCTOR'S BILLS

by paying attention to properly regulating the bowels thereby preventing a thousand and one derangements of the system which follow neglect of this precaution. Once used for this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are always in favor. They're purely vegetable and far better, as a liver pill, than blue pills or calomel. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular-not to constinate. Miss MARY ANGUISH, of Glen Easton, Mar-

GOOD ADVICE.

Every patriotic citizen should give his personal effort and influence to increase the circulation of his home paper which teaches the American policy of Protection. It is his duty to aid in this respect in every way possible. After the home paper is taken care of, why not subscribe for the AMERICAN ECONOMIST. published by the American Protective Tariff League? One of its correspondents says: "No true American can get along without it. I consider it the greatest and truest political teacher in the United States."
